

Regency Hospital - Minneapolis

Financial Assistance

One of the primary criteria used to determine whether a patient will be admitted to Regency Hospital – Minneapolis is whether they will benefit from a stay at our critical illness recovery hospital.

Our services are covered by most insurance carriers including Medicare and Medicaid.

We will verify insurance benefits and pre-certify admissions prior to actual admission.

For patients who are unable to pay, Regency Hospital – Minneapolis does provide financial assistance for medically necessary care. All applicants for financial hardship will be screened for Medicaid coverage and must work with Medicaid representatives in order to be considered for financial hardship.

To obtain a copy of Regency Hospital – Minneapolis' full financial assistance policy, plain language summary and an application, please or ask for it at our hospital.
